Laser Spine Institute Chief Medical Operations Officer
Speaks At Oklahoma State Assembly Spring Fling Conference
Dotty J. Bollinger Offers Infection Control Advice

OKLAHOMA CITY – Bill Horne, CEO of Laser Spine Institute (<http://www.laserspinesinstitute.com>), the leader in endoscopic spine surgery, has announced that Dotty Bollinger, RN, JD, LHRM, CASC and chief medical operations officer, spoke about infection control at the Oklahoma State Assembly Spring Fling surgical technology conference. The event, sponsored by the Oklahoma State Assembly of Surgical Technologists, took place March 5 on Moore Norman Technology Center's Penn campus in Oklahoma City. Bollinger discussed tips and best practices as well as the legal trends in infection control. A respected expert in the field of infection control, Bollinger recently hosted a webinar about the requirements for a successful infection prevention program on Becker's ASC Review website.

QUOTES:

"Laser Spine Institute is pleased to recognize Dotty as a speaker at the Oklahoma State Assembly conference," said Horne. "Her proven experience and specific knowledge about infection control were no doubt valuable contributions to the seminar and provided attendees with important tips and advice for prevention."
